

Planting Depth & Spacing for Bulbs

The general rule of thumb for planting bulbs is to plant them with their base sitting at 2.5 to 3 times the diameter of the bulb. A similar rule can be applied to spacing, with most bulbs requiring about 3 times their width between them and their neighbour. You can plant your bulbs closer together for a lush more dramatic display if you wish but leave adequate space if you want your bulbs to naturalize and multiply. Most bulb packages will indicate the precise planting depth and spacing for the variety you have purchased.

*This chart is for general reference only. Please consider the individual sizes and exact varieties of your bulbs when determining your planting depths. Please always refer to the package directions where available.

This Information Provided by:

www.belgian-nursery.com